A screenshot of the Onondaga Historical Association Museum & Research Center website. The header features the organization's name and a banner image of historical artifacts. Below the header, there is a "Who We Are" section with a paragraph about the organization's mission and a "Crossroads Time" section featuring a book cover. A "Read about our newest book!" section promotes a book titled "The Gambino Place Cookbook" with a small image of a woman. To the right, a "Navigation" menu lists various sections: Festival Activities, Museum, Research Center, Educational Programs, Community Events, and Join & Support OHA. At the bottom right, there is a logo for the Golden Age Cooperative of Seneca County.
