'WHAT IF ...' FILM SERIES RETURNS

The Gifford Foundation continues with its "What if . . ." Film Series in March and April. This is the second year for the film series examining the immigrant experience and community healing.

The hour-long films will be screened twice, with moderated discussions afterward. The films are:

■ "Carved From the Heart," which will be shown at 5:30 p.m. March 6 and 7 p.m. March 15. The film follows a Canadian aborigine woodcarver whose son died from a drug overdose. He decides to remember his son with a totem pole, and the townspeople of Craig, Alaska, assist the grieving father in this memorial.

■ "Trust: Second Acts in Young Lives," which will be screened 5:30 p.m. April 4 and 7 p.m. April 16. The documentary delves into the life of Marlin, a young woman originally from Honduras who is a victim of sexual violence and who has difficulties immigrating to the United States. Chicago's Albany Park Theatre Project creates a play based on her life.

Both films will be screened for free at ArtRage Gallery, 505 Hawley Ave., Syracuse. For more information about the films, call the Gifford Foundation at 474-2489 or go to giffordfoundation.org.
