Book talk to focus on Syracusans during Cold War peacetime draft

Onondaga Historical Association

The Onondaga Historical Association will feature a PowerPoint presentation of the book “The Peacetime Draft During the Cold War,” at 2 p.m. today. It is free and open to the public.

Author Mel Rubenstein explains that the book is a compilation of stories from Syracuse-area men like Hall Groat, Hal Brown, Dick Case, the Rev. Ted Taylor, Sidney Lipton, Haden Patton, Dr. Roosevelt “Rick” Wright, and others, who served during that so-called peaceful, but uncertain and dangerous era of the Cold War.
