

Historical classic

Submitted image

"Christmas is a humbug," Ebenezer Scrooge tells his nephew, Fred, in the Onondaga Historical Association's presentation of "Mr. Dickens, Mr. Scrooge and A Christmas Carol." Tom Minnion, of Liverpool, plays Scrooge and Austin Arlington, of DeWitt, is Fred.

THE DETAILS

WHAT: "Mr. Dickens, Mr. Scrooge and a Christmas Carol"

WHEN: 2 p.m. Sunday and Dec. 26

WHERE: Onondaga Historical Association Museum, 321 Montgomery St., Syracuse

ADMISSION: $5; members, $3

MORE INFO: The OHA presents an interactive interpretation of the beloved Christmas story narrated by the eminent Charles Dickens and featuring that "lovable" Mr. Scrooge and all the classic's favorite characters, some of them, which members of the audience will bring to life. Mr. Dickens returns to the Salt City 140 years after his initial visit during an 1869 American tour. He will be assisted in the retelling of his most famous tale with actors of OHA's own performing troupe, The History Up Stagers.

CONTACT: 428-1864, ext. 312; www.cnyhistory.org

Fayetteville Senior Center, 584 E. Genesee St., Fayetteville. Ages 18 and older can learn the fundamentals of drawing. All levels of ability welcome. Register in advance. $4 plus supplies; members, $2 plus supplies. 315-637-9025.

Galleries

ARTIST TREES: today to Dec. 17. Cazenovia Artisans Gallery, 39 Albany St., Cazenovia. An exhibit of Christmas trees created and decorated in various media by local member artists. Hours: 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday. 315-655-2225.

ARTS ACROSS CAMPUS: OCC

FACULTY ART SHOW: 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. today to Friday, Monday to Dec. 16. Onondaga Community College, 4585 W. Seneca Turnpike, Onondaga. A mixed media show with works from Onondaga's own faculty members. On the Gallery at the Ann Felton Multicultural Center. Free. 315-498-2787, www.sunyocc.edu.

CORPOREAL : today to Dec. 17. Light Work, 316 Waverly Ave., Syracuse. Deana Lawson's photographs examine how the body informs personal, political and historical identities. Also on view is the exhibition, "Artists at Work: Transmedia Photo Faculty." Hours: 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday through Friday and by appointment. Free. 315-443-1300, lightwork.org.

CALENDAR, PAGE 20