

2000

(10 years ago)

■ A parade, a wedding and a game: The 18th annual St. Patrick's Parade saw sunny skies, a couple taking their wedding vows and lots of people wearing Orange, as the second-round NCAA men's basketball tournament game between Syracuse University and Kentucky was happening at the same time.

Dennis Nett / The Post-Standard, 2000

Also that week:

◀ Faces on display:
The restored carvings of faces saved from the cellar wall of the Wesleyan Methodist Church basement were on display at the Onondaga Historical Association museum. The church was part of the Underground Railroad, and the carvings may have been made by fugitive slaves.

■ Men honored: The Public Safety Building, in Syracuse, was renamed to honor former Sheriff John C. Dillion, and the Onondaga County Justice Center was renamed in honor of former Sheriff Patrick J. Corbett.