

HISTORY

Get your I-81 story straight

The Onondaga Historical Association exhibit about bridges in Onondaga County will be closing after Oct. 20. With so much debate swirling around the future of Interstate 81, the exhibit offers insights and alternatives. The final program in the exhibit's six-month run is at 2 p.m. Sunday at the OHA, 321 Montgomery St., Syracuse. Speakers — including Craig Williams, curator from the New York State Museum — will talk about the dynamic bridges spanning New York's many canals. For information: 428-1864, cnyhistory.org.

Powered by TECNAVIA

Copyright © 2013 Syracuse Post Standard 10/10/2013