

Skä-noñh – Great Law of Peace Center reopened Saturday in Liverpool

The center was closed for two years while it underwent renovations

Published 11/21 2015 08:20PM

Updated 11/21 2015 08:20PM

Copyright 2015 Nexstar Broadcasting, Inc. All rights reserved. This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten, or redistributed.

LIVERPOOL (WSYR-TV)

The former St. Marie Among the Iroquois reopened Saturday in Liverpool, as the Skä-nofih – Great Law of Peace Center.

The center was closed for two years while it underwent one million dollars in renovations.

The new exhibit will tell the story of the importance of the Iroquois culture – which was founded on the shores of Onondaga Lake.

The Great Law of Peace is their constitution, considered the first representative democracy in the West, centuries before the United States government.

The new center is open Wednesday - Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For more information, visit their website by clicking here.

Copyright 2015 Nexstar Broadcasting, Inc. All rights reserved. This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten, or redistributed.